Subject: Weiser leads Marx by 26, a margin no Democratic governor has reached since 1990

Date: November 3, 2026

Phil Weiser leads Victor Marx by 26 points in the race for Governor.

Our November 1–2 survey of 400 likely November voters finds Democrat Phil Weiser at 59% and Republican Victor Marx at 33%, including voters who lean toward a candidate, with 4% for another candidate and 4% undecided.

A 26-point win would be the largest for a Democratic governor since Roy Romer's landslide in 1990

Roy Romer won re-election by 26.5 points in 1990. Weiser's 26-point lead runs 7 points ahead of Jared Polis's 2022 landslide (19.4).

Election	Winner	Runner-up	Margin
1990	Roy Romer (D) 61.9%	John Andrews (R) 35.4%	+26.5
2026, KR poll (November 1–2)	Phil Weiser (D) 59%	Victor Marx (R) 33%	+26
1978	Dick Lamm (D) 58.8%	Ted Strickland (R) 38.5%	+20.2
2022	Jared Polis (D) 58.5%	Heidi Ganahl (R) 39.2%	+19.4
1986	Roy Romer (D) 58.2%	Ted Strickland (R) 41.0%	+17.2

Weiser is winning with unaffiliated voters, moderates, women, and voters under 50

Weiser leads in key voters groups, including unaffiliated voters, women, college graduates, voters under 50, voters 50 and older, moderates, voters who have already cast a ballot, the Denver suburbs, and Denver and Boulder.

- Unaffiliated voters. Weiser leads among unaffiliated voters 60% to 29% (+31). Unaffiliated voters are the largest bloc in Colorado's electorate.
- Republican crossover. Marx holds just 75% of Republicans, while 14% of Republicans back Weiser.
- Moderates. Weiser leads among moderates 61% to 25% (+36).
- Women and men. Weiser leads among women 66% to 27% (+39) and among men 52% to 39% (+13).

Hickenlooper leads Baisley by 21 in the U.S. Senate race

Democrat John Hickenlooper leads Republican Mark Baisley 58% to 37% (+21) for U.S. Senate, including voters who lean toward a candidate, with 3% for another candidate and 2% undecided. He leads among unaffiliated voters 59% to 34% (+25), women 66% to 32% (+34).

The Colorado Statewide Survey – November 2026 results are based on a hybrid (live-interviewer and text-to-online) survey of 400 likely November 2026 voters in Colorado (133 completes by phone, 267 by text-to-online). Completes were set by quota on party, turnout history, gender, age, region and ethnicity, and weighted to KR's 2026 likely-electorate model by party registration, gender, age, region, education. The margin of error at the 95% level is plus or minus 4.9%. Keating Research conducted the poll from November 1-2, 2026.
